MR. MAGA

IMAGINE LIFE WITHOUT HIM

Mr. Maga, our associate principal and friend, has been with every year that we have been here. Tormenting some, but usually helping most. No matter what the situation, in school or out, he was always willing to go out of his way to get whatever you needed. Sometimes he could even get things you didn't need. He has always done all of his work with a smile and more often than not, he could get one on you. If it was with the great laugh of his or just seeing him walk through the hallway with his bullhorn, which luckily for us someone stole. His voice was always heard and understood, which set most of us straight and helped to make us who we are. We are all very appreciative for the help, guidance and friendship he has given to us. We wish him the best of luck with the rest of his years at Quabbin. We will never forget him and the Class of '98 gives him the biggest thank you we can.

THANK YOU MR. L.

Mr. LaMontagne or Mr. L as we affectionately call him, has been teaching here at Quabbin since 1973. He primarily teaches drafting and technology classes, but he has also taught a semester of history, a semester of English, and three years of business math. He guides us through our academic endeavors with the same pleasant attitude each day. He always kept class fun. There was the time that we tested whose contraption would fall the farthest without breaking, then when we made airplanes to see what affected each model, and also when the design of his mother-in-law's garage was built. He always made learning fun and easy. We want to thank him for his valuable time and experience. We will miss him and his witty sense of humor. Thanks, from the class of '98.

THANK YOU MRS. HERSEY

Mrs. Hersey started teaching here at Quabbin in 1982. Since she has been here she has taught a variety of subjects. These include: Algebra 1 & 2, Geometry, Computer skills in Jr. & Sr. high, Astronomy, Chemistry, I.P.S., Principles of Technology, and Physics. Some of the projects she has done are mouse-cars, rubber-band-cars, and lou-vee-air-cars, you've probably all seen these rolling down the halls. Another interesting experiment is the egg-drop which she will do as a final project with her I.P.S. class. She is obviously a gold mine of information and a valuable teacher. We will miss knowledge and presence very much. Thanks from the class of '98.

West Side Story

From the beginning, rehearsals started every night with a huge bowl of carrots and cherry tomatoes, (donated by Julie). As soon as scenery arrived, things like spool racing and waltzing with dummies became common. Pat Guilette brought the costumes in for fitting and Joel Seger fitted shoes. Sarah and Charlie learned to be a "couple" without laughing to move the audience with "One hand, One Heart." Sarah and Becky cried during "A boy like that/ I have a love." Jenny Pratt learned to slap Pepe, and Emily and Adam became a "great couple". The females in the play laughed and sang during "America" and the two gangs faced off in the rumble scene. When the show came around on Nov 7, 8 and 9th, lengthy make-up and hair sessions with Joel were frequent. Then we would warm up singing "Tonight" with a squeeze circle. Mr. Gumula would get lots of laughs in his Gladhand costume. On Friday, Amelia's heel broke off and Gabe hit his head on the stage stairs and amazingly finished the show with a concussion. Saturday, Dylan accidentally punched himself, and Sunday, Becky stopped Doc's door with her forehead. On the last day the cast cried for this was the final performance, and for many their final show at Quabbin. The cast and crew had done such a great job, and had bonded throughout the whole show.

The Story of Alice in Wonderland

DO YOU KNOW where Wonderland is? It is the place you visit in your dreams; the strange and wondrous place where nothing is as it seems. It was in Wonderland that Alice met the White Rabbit.

He was hurrying across the meadow, looking at his pocket watch and saying to himself: "I'm late, I'm late, for a very important date."

So Alice followed him. "What a peculiar place to give a party," she thought as she pushed her way into the hollow tree.

But before she could think any more, she began to slide on some slippery white pebbles inside. And then she began to fall!

"Curious and curiouiser!" Said Alice as she floated slowly down, past cupboards and lamps, a rocking chair, past clocks and mirrors she met in midair.

By the time she reached the bottom, and landed with a thump, the White Rabbit was disappearing through a tiny little door, too small for Alice to follow him.

Poor Alice! She was all alone in Wonderland, where nothing was just what it seemed. (You know how things are in dreams!)

She met other animals, yes, indeed, strange talking animals, too. They tried to be as helpful as they could. But they couldn't help her find the White Rabbit.

"And I really must find him," Alice thought, though she wasn't sure just why.

Soon she wandered through Wonderland, all by her lonely self.

At last she reached a neat little house in the woods, with pink shutters and a little front door that opened and out came the White Rabbit!

"Oh, my twitching whiskers!" He was saying to himself. He seemed very much upset. Then he looked up and saw Alice standing there.

"Mary Ann!" He said sharply. "Why, Mary Ann, what are you doing here? Well, don't just do something, stand there! No, go get my gloves. I'm very late!"

"But late for what? That's just what I..." Alice began to ask.

"My gloves!" Said the White Rabbit firmly. And Alice dutifully went to look for them, though she knew she wasn't Mary Ann!

When she came back, the White Rabbit was just disappearing through the woods again.

So off went Alice, trying to follow him through that strange, mixed-up Wonderland.

She met Tweedledee and Tweedledum, a funny little pair.

She joined a mad tea party with the Mad Hatter and the March Hare.

She met a Cheshire cat who faded in and out of sight. And one strange creature-Jabberwock-whose eyes flamed in the night.

They all were very kind, but they could not show Alice the way, until: "There is a short cut," she hears the Cheshire cat say. So Alice took it.

The short cut led into a garden where gardeners were busy painting roses red.

"We must hurry," they said, "for the Queen is coming!"

And sure enough, a trumpet blew, and a voice called: "Make way for the Queen of Hearts!"

Then out came a grand procession. And who should the royal trumpeter for the cross-looking Queen but the White Rabbit, all dressed up and looking very fine.

"Well!" Said Alice. "So this is why he was hurrying so!"

"Who are you?" Snapped the Queen. "Do you play Croquet?"

"I'm Alice. And I'm just on my way home. Thank you for the invitation, but I really mustn't stay."

"So!" Cried the Queen. "So she won't play! Off with her head then!"

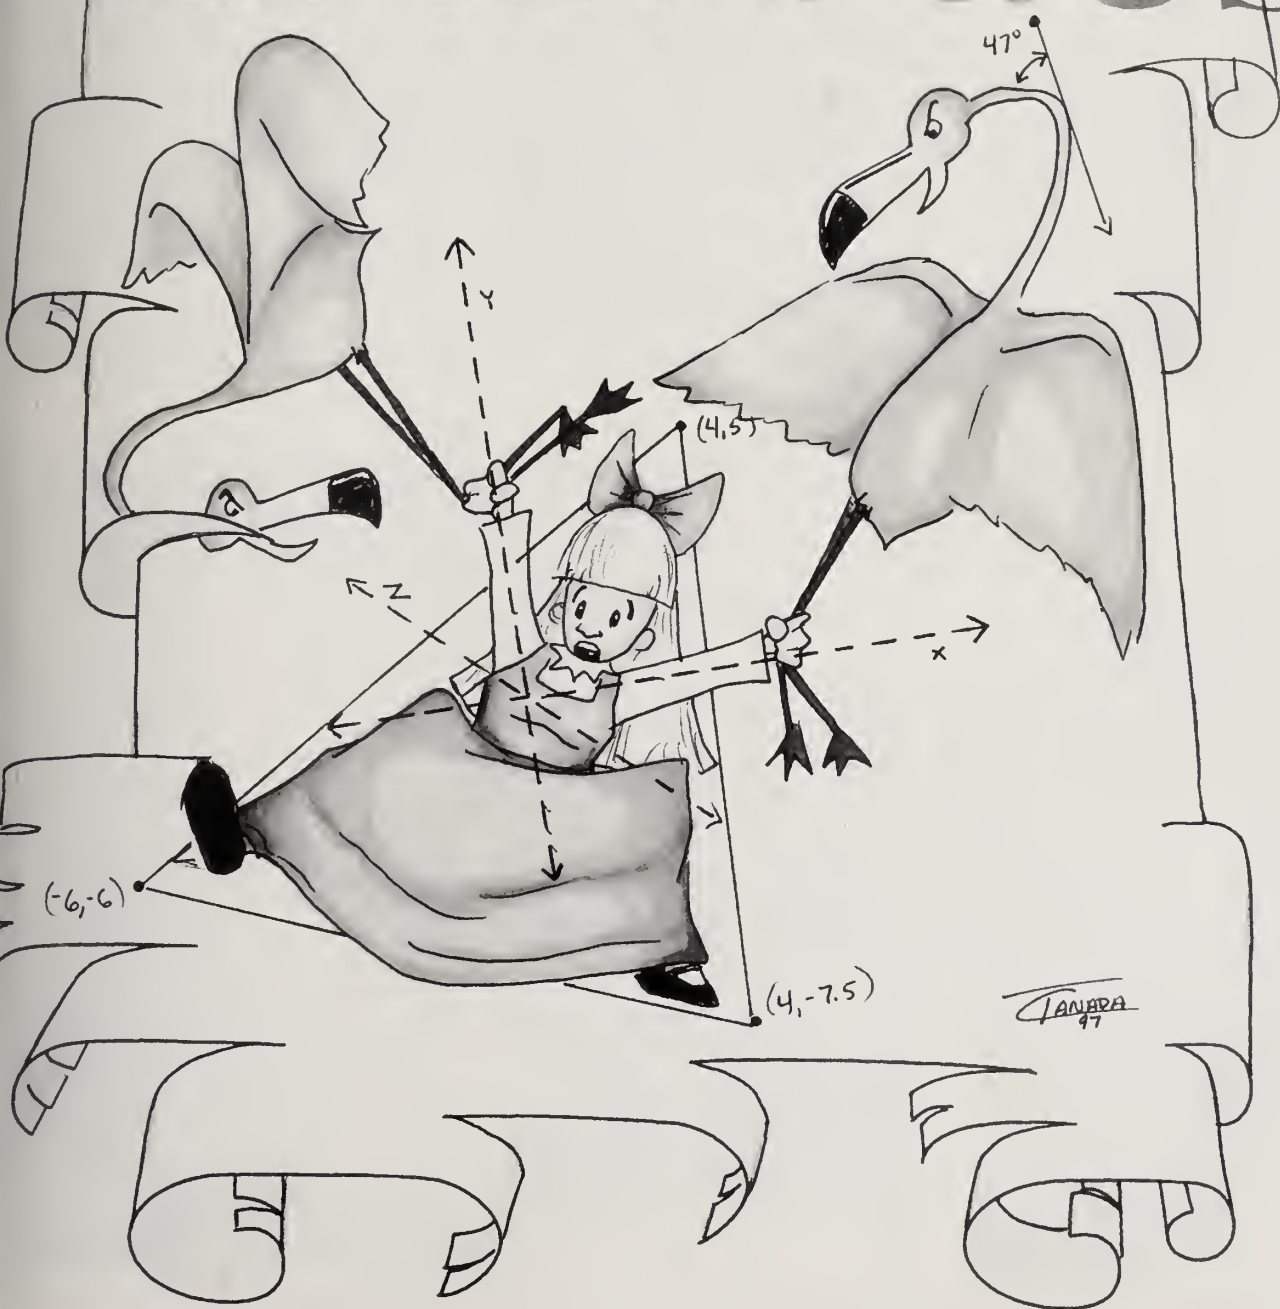

But Alice was tired of Wonderland now, and all its nonsensical ways.

"Pooh!" She said. "I'm not frightened of you. You're nothing but a pack of cards."

And with that she ran back through that land of dreams, back to the river bank where she had fallen asleep.

"Hm," she said, as she rubbed her eyes. "I'm glad to be back where things are what they seem. I've had quite enough for now of Wonderland!"

ACADEMICS

Mathematics

It wasn't just the learning about the numbers and rules. There were different games to make the numbers and rules go together to remember them. You can see now how much fun it was, or how bad it was because it wasn't your subject of study. If you were good at it you tried harder, if not, you just didn't care how well you did.

Science

Going to do labs in the back of the room, getting out of the chairs to wake you up, working with chemicals, metals or occasional critters, being able to work on your own, and not having to listen to the teacher for the whole period were all fun until you had a paper due. All these made Science worth it.

Social Studies

Four score and seven years ago...we learned how our very own country was created and managed. We also learned about the rest of the world and their ancient civilizations. Some of us had the pleasure of interviewing our grandparents and learning personal history first hand. Now we know what happened, where it happened and why.

Health

A course which just began last year is off to a great start. Not only encouraging physical health but also mental health. Students are challenged with various tasks such as drinking only water for a month. This turned out harder than most of us expected, but most were surprised by how good we felt.

Business

The business department's courses would benefit anyone at Quabbin, no matter what field of study you go into. They offer a wide range of courses from word processing to business law, business math and marketing. We learned things as simple as balancing our checkbooks and things as complicated as running our own business.

Physical Education

Gym class was a requirement from 7th to 10th grade. During these years we learned a number of activities such as bowling, golf, archery, lacrosse and of course who can forget the famous "Jane Fonda workout". With these various sports we have learned endurance and the importance of teamwork. A new class for Juniors and Seniors was introduced called Recreational and Lifetime Activities.

English

Throughout American ages have lived many notorious authors. Throughout our years at Quabbin, we have had the privilege to read their thoughts and feelings and analyze the true meaning of life. From Shakespeare and "Lord of the Flies", to studies of Indian and African American hardships. The English department carries us through it all.

World Language

At Quabbin, you can from a wide variety of languages.

Such as Spanish, French, Latin and Chinese. These world cultures expose the students to not only the language, but the culture that surrounds these environments. In the first 2 years, basic skills and phrases are written and spoken. The final two years, the languages are more detailed and time is spent with the culture itself.

We didn't know what we were getting into! Three friends taking charge of the yearbook! We had to go to a camp which we knew nothing about. Our advisor, and friend, Mrs. Tancrell tricked us into agreeing to be editors-in-chief, then told us we had to give up an entire weekend. It has been an adventure for us, having to figure all of this out and for Mrs. Tancrell putting up with us for a year. We have had "good times" putting all our friends and other people, who we didn't know into the book. It got us a day out of school to sell ads. We just want to thank everyone for all the help, especially the artists who went nutty. We hope this souped-up yearbook keeps all your fun times of high school in the back of your mind. Thanks!!

Vehicles

Checking out the rides

Checking out the rides. Well some of us had the nice vehicle, while the rest of us had the ones that just got us around. Memories of playing bumper cars, seeing whose engine revs the loudest or the occasional accident that just happened will always be with us. Sometimes we would forget where we parked because it was so early in the morning. The freedom of being able to do what you wanted because you had a car and you didn't have to take the bus home was what most of us appreciated when we got our cars. Just going to a friend's house or going out on week-ends, made owning a car even more enjoyable.

Despite the dreary skies, the stars were shining strongly inside at the Royal Plaza Hotel on May 17, 1997. The 1997 Junior Prom was above everybody's expectations. Hours before the night was set to begin, the Class of 1998 brought their theme "Wonderful Tonight" to life. Deep purple and silver filled the room. Each table was covered with silver stars and balloons.

The months of indecision and bickering had led to a long awaited evening. While the food was not as good as expected, students compensated by finishing the meal quickly then forming up the dance floor. Formal pictures were taken while the music blared in the background. All too soon the Prom drew to a close, but not without the memories of "Wonderful Tonight."

After Glow

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when day is done. I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways, Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun, Of happy memories that I leave behind when day is done.

VARSITY BOYS

SOCCER

It was the boys opening season under the reign of Coach Knittle. The team surpassed many obstacles and injuries while managing to come out of the year with a winning record and a spot in the playoffs. The team was young with four sophomores, one who started in goal, and five seniors. The team had a great time together and an overall record of 9-8-2. Some high points of the season were: being the only central Mass. team to defeat Shepard Hill; Wes Defoyd coming up huge in goal late in the season; and turning out two league all stars, two honorable mentions, two central Mass. All-stars, and a Telegram & Gazette all-star. The team continued its streak of making the tournament, but lost a close game to Hudson in the first round of the playoffs. The team felt the season was a success because of the experience they gathered.

The varsity girl's soccer team made up of four freshmen, five sophomores, four juniors and seven seniors compiled an overall record of 7-7-5. This record does not reflect the hard work and determination the team put forth. Though the team was plagued by injuries throughout the season, the long term discipline and perserverance resulted in the team's achievements. Highlights of the season include the 1-1 tie against division 1 Algonquin under the lights, the near win against the strong David Prouty team, coming back from a 5-0 loss to Westboro to beat them 2-1, and the tie against Tantasqua to qualify for the district playoffs.

Although at the start of the season expectations were low for this Quabbin team, the unique and diverse squad overcame the odds and united to make this season one to remember.

FIELD HOCKEY

The 1997 Lady Panthers finished with a overall record of 12 - 3- 2 in the regular season, shocking those who considered this a rebuilding year. Quabbin missed their 3rd league championship by 2 points. The team reached a high point when they beat arch rival Quaboag 3 - 1 for the first time in 6 years. Sophomore Christen Watt led Quabbin and the league in scoring with 15 goals and 24 points. Meagan Melanson had 14 pts, Kim VanWert - 12 pts, Becky Widing - 10 pts all finished in the top 10 in the league. Keeper Jenny Burrows finished second in the league with a .83 GAA. In the districts Quabbin opened with a 1 - 0 win over Oakmont. Quarterfinals found Quabbin and Leominster tied at 0 - 0. The game stayed tied through 3 overtimes, until a penalty stroke was called against Leominster and Quabbin scored. The district finals were held at David Prouty against Notre Dame Academy. Quabbin quickly took the lead and held it until the 2nd half, when Notre Dame scored 2 goals. The Panthers ended the season with a record of 16 - 4- 2.

BASKETBALL

The boys started the season strong with an 11 - 1 record then fell to 13 - 6 at the season's end. Highlights of the season included Tim McKeen's 1000th point and beating Westboro at Westboro. The boys once again qualified for the Clark tournament but lost in the first round to the tournament champions by 2 points. The team also qualified for the districts losing in the first round to Saint Bernards. Although the team will lose 5 seniors we look forward to an exciting season next year.

VARSITY GIRLS

BASKETBALL

The girls basketball team, with head coach Duncan Stewart, experienced a rebuilding year this 1997-98 season. Coach Stewart reintroduced his coaching methods to the girl's basketball program after his years away from the team. The team consisted mostly of young players who will bring promise to the program in the coming seasons. The record of 3-17 and a sixth place finish at the Mount Wachusett Tournament does not clearly demonstrate the team's overall determination and desire. Look for this team in the future to bring excitement and success to the Quabbin fans.

Amy Bassett, Billy Joe Sweeney and Mrs. Inman weigh merchandise.

The drama club runs its candy stand with the help of Kate Guilette and Cambret Desilets keeping them in business.

Kim Van Wert, Sarah Swiatlowski, Gabe Recos, Julie Paradis and Tina Starkweather prepare the shirts for tie-dyeing.

Mooo-ve over and get your picture with the infamous cow, run by Alissa Leonard and Courtney Deschenes. Helping walk the cow are Nancy Leslie, Sarah Flagg and Kim VanWert.

Kerri Peabody and Kimmy Lavallee lend a helping hand to earn money for the class of '98.

Seth Davis, Darek Kuprycz, and Wes Defoyd grill it up.

The sophomore class rakes in the dough at the balloon stand.

Becky Wellspring, Sarah Mitchell and Ashley Stewart put the finishing touches on the food stand.

Nicole Sepanek helps the youngsters through the obstacle course.

Heather Nichols & Alan Currier

From that enchanted wood they came to share our childhood hours, and as we strolled down wonder's lane their friendly hands held ours. Now though we're grown and far away from those magic woods we roamed, the laughter echoes in our hearts and friendship calls us home.

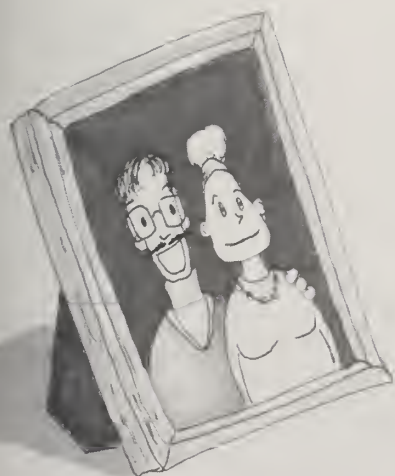

We are so proud to have a daughter and sister as special as you are. Keep up the good work.

Love always,
Dad, Mom, Emily,
and Melissa

PARENT MESSAGE

SECTION

Jessica, you were three years old with your Jordache jeans. You were the princess of hearts during Halloween. Through brownies, piano, high school and cheering, she's quite a girl was all we were hearing. We have walked right beside you, uphill and down while you spread smiles and God's blessings when you were around. WE LOVE YOU, WE'RE PROUD for who you have become. Now open your arms embracing life on the run. But always keep in you, that person you are, your love, faith and beauty, you are the greatest by far.

CONGRATULATIONS!
Love Mom and Dad

Congratulations
Julie!

You have made us
very proud.

Love Mom, Dad, &
Billy

And feel a spirit kindred to my own;
So that thenceforth I worked no more alone;

But glad with him, I worked as with his aid,
And weary, sought at noon with him the shade;

And dreaming, as it were, held brotherly speech
With one whose thought I had not hoped to reach,

"Men work together, "I told him from the heart,
"Whether they work together or apart."

Erin Lee Reardon

Erin,
Congratulations on all of your accomplishments. Your sparkling eyes and radiant smile are beacons for your beautiful spirit.
May you flourish with life's virtues. Among these are honesty, knowledge, understanding, wisdom, faith, hope and love. Blessings for success and happiness.
We are so proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Matthew & Timothy

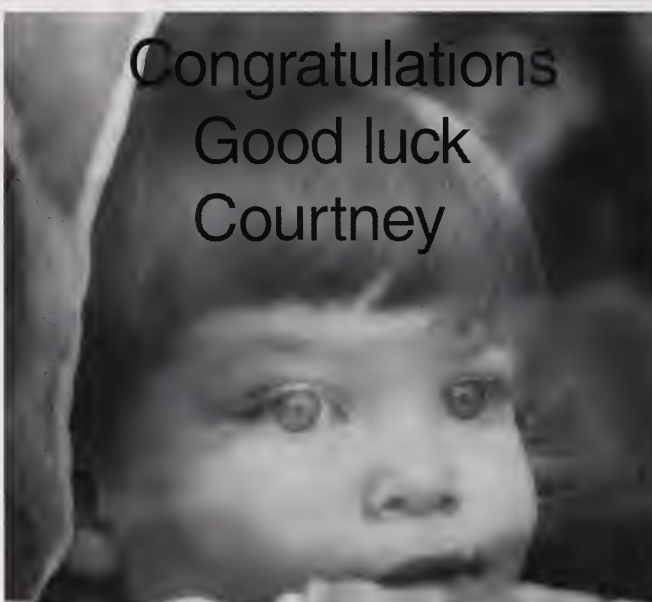

Stephanie,
From the moment you were
